The Newsletter of the Sonoran Audubon Society

Volume 12 Issue 7

March, 2011

At our next meeting.... Wednesday, March 9, 2011, at 7 p.m.

George Wall—Costa Rica and Nicaragua

George Wall started bird watching in April of 1997, when he went to Fort Morgan, Alabama, to watch bird banding. It intrigued him so much, that he joined the Hummingbird Society and then the National Audubon Society. He put up lots of feeders in his backyard and also a Purple Martin house. When he moved to Arizona in 1999, he found it was a birder's paradise.

He first joined Birders' Anonymous and was soon the leader of that group which he led for 8 years. When the Sonoran Audubon Society came into existence, he also joined them. In 2004, he became a board member. In September of 2005, he became the editor of the monthly newsletter and in June of 2009, became the president of the Sonoran Audubon Society. He's planned and led birding trips both small and long ones like to Alamos, Mexico.

As a world-wide bird watcher, he's birded parts of the U.S., Mexico, Canada, Costa Rica, Ecuador, Galapagos Islands, Nicaragua, Brazil, Argentina, Peru, Guatemala, and Australia. His next big trip will be the entire month of April 2011, to Kenya, Africa, where he expects to see over 800 species.

Crimson-fronted Parrot

George Wall

He is extremely active in his church – Church of the Palms in Sun City. He is the Moderator, a member of the Finance and Personnel Committees, purchases all the kitchen supplies, drives the bus once a month, does the cooking for them and helps with anything else they require.

The program he is presenting is about the Windjammer Cruise he took in 2007 to Costa Rica and Nicaragua sponsored by Audubon Arizona. Besides seeing one of the oldest cities in the Americas (Granada), there were trips to several nature preserves in Costa Rica. Since this wasn't a birding trip, he became their guide for the birds seen on their walks. He had prepared himself by studying what he might see.

Clear Creek Campground

Leader: Dan Bohlmann 602-938-8244

dansbohlmann@prodigy.net

Clear Creek Campground is east of Camp Verde on Highway 260. We have stayed there many times over the years and have always noticed a large number of birds in the campground. Clear Creek flowing through the campground, a number of man-made channels running from the creek, an abundance of cottonwood and sycamore trees and other bushes attract numerous birds and wildlife.

Some of the birds I've seen are Blue Grosbeaks, Cardinals, Black-headed Grosbeaks, Spotted and Green-tailed Towhees, Song Sparrows, Dark-eyed Juncos, Bullock's Oriole, Western and Summer Tanagers, Lesser Goldfinches, vireos, warblers and Scrub Jays. After we exhaust ourselves going in circles around the campground, we will try some areas near the Verde River and nearby fields on the river road that goes further south along the west side of the river.

Difficulty: 2 - Bring a lunch.

We will meet at the Fry's Electronics Store at 31st Ave. and Thunderbird Ave. in the Northeast corner of the parking lot at 7 a.m.

We'll make a quick stop at Fain Park in Prescott Valley, then head to The Highlands Center for a nice walk in the woods. Depending on timing, we'll visit one or more lakes, and probably the Watson Lake Riparian Preserve. We should get a nice collection of higher elevation birds such as Acorn and Hairy Woodpeckers, and colorful summer residents like Yellow Warblers, Blue Grosbeaks, and Summer Tanagers.

be birding along the way. We'll probably stay in Tombstone which is central to the birding areas of St. David and California Gulch. We'll bird St. David first and hope to see the White-tailed Kites. Next we'll bird California Gulch to see the Five-striped Sparrows and the Buff-collared Nightjar. There will be more on this trip later.

Arizona Council of Arizona Chapters

Just what is this organization? There are nine Audubon chapters in Arizona – Sonoran, Maricopa, Desert Rivers, Huachuca, White Mountain, Tucson, Prescott, Northern Arizona and Yuma. The council is made up of representatives from each of the chapters. They meet each quarter to take up issues that are pertinent to conservation. If it is a controversial issue, the representatives will take the issue back to their chapters for discussion, action or whatever is needed. This keeps the chapters in the know of what is happening in Arizona concerning conservation and related subjects. Audubon Arizona also attends and provides important input to the council.

After the Council meeting on February 5, 2011, the Arizona Council of Arizona Chapters was formed as a 501c (3) non-profit organization. Tricia Gerrodette was elected President, Karen LaFrance Vice President and Secretary and Ruth Russell Treasurer.

The new National Audubon Society president, David Yarnold, attended the meeting and provided information on what he and National are trying to do. It was also a question and answer session and a lot was learned. He seemed very knowledgeable and had a great personality as well as a good speaking voice. The National Audubon Society did well in acquiring him.

Annual Sonoran Audubon Society Picnic

March 26, 2011

This will be our Annual SAS Picnic. This picnic is open to all members, friends, guests, etc. All we ask is that you sign up either at a meeting, e-mail me at gwall5@cox.net or call me at 623-875-7057. We will furnish the hamburgers, hot dogs and all the condiments for them. Just show up and bring a small salad, casserole, veggie or dessert of your choice.

At the same time, for those who want to, there will be a bird walk. The bird walk will start at 7 a.m. at the Robbins Butte picnic area. The walk is about 2 miles round trip and it will take us maybe 2 hours to walk the trail. The difficulty is a 1. We should see a lot of birds at this time of year.

The picnic will start at around 11 a.m. and go until 1-2 p.m. There will be door prizes.

Robbins Butte Wildlife Area (RBWA) is administered by the Arizona Game & Fish Department. We've had trips here twice before and always had a good time. There are 4 large picnic tables, a serving table, grill, and several other places to sit. However, if you have those nice folding chairs, it would be a good idea to bring them just in case the tables are full. There are porta potties close by. Phil Smith, who works for Arizona Game and Fish and who manages Robbins Butte, has done an amazing job in the last five years getting the place fixed up to where it is now.

Directions: Robbins Butte is exactly 7 miles from I-10 on Hwy. 85. It is on the right hand side of the road. The dirt road runs about two miles to the Ranger's house. There will be signs for parking, etc.

Thank You

WAY TO GO AUDUBON SOCIETY!

The Sonoran Audubon Society sent a letter to Larry Voyles, Director of the Arizona Game & Fish Department, concerning our raising $3,200 toward the purchase of Horseshoe Ranch. The information was given in turn to the Arizona Antelope Foundation who has invested a great amount of money for this project. Shane Stewart then sent this letter to us.

“What an amazing showing of true conservation. Your membership deserves a pat on the back. We are extremely excited about the prospects this acquisition brings. The Arizona Antelope Foundation believes this will be a true center of learning and cooperation that will protect and preserve a piece of Arizona's high desert for generations to come. I would like to thank you and the Audubon Society for joining with us in this conservation effort. I am ecstatic!!”

Shane Stewart, Arizona Antelope Foundation President

Sulphur Springs Valley Trip Report

February 12-13, 2011

What a trip! Barbara Meding did an outstanding job of putting it together. We had beautiful weather and great camaraderie. We met at Benson's Sewage Treatment Ponds at 10 a.m. There was a chain link fence around the ponds; however, there were birding portals cut into one area which gave us good views of the many ducks and 2 immature Snow Geese. After scanning the nearby fields, we ended up with 33 species.

After lunch, we headed to St. David and the Holy Trinity Monastery where we walked the trails around the ponds finding many sparrow species. We saw 35 species and the best birds were the Rufous-backed Robin and the Gray Flycatcher. After an excellent dinner, we spent the night at the Best Western in Tombstone.

In the morning after breakfast, we all traveled to Whitewater Draw Wildlife Preserve (WDWP) where we met our leaders Tom Wood and Sheri Williamson, co-founders of the Southeastern Arizona Bird Observatory (SABO).

Northern Flicker—Yellow-shafted

We first observed some Sandhill Cranes. Then they showed us around WDWP. We were all surprised when Sheri identified a Yellow-shafted Flicker. In that short walk we saw 16 species. We then boarded their small bus to look for birds on the back roads of the Sulphur Springs Valley. We had two nice surprises – a Great Horned Owl sitting in a tree only a few feet from the bus and a Bendire's Thrasher which appeared long enough for everyone to get good looks. At one point we stopped to observe thousands of Sandhill Cranes heading back to WDWP. Lurking above them were a Bald Eagle and a Ferruginous Hawk. On the bus tour we saw 21 species.

Great Horned Owl

When we got back to WDWP, we took some time to walk around on our own. Sandhill Cranes were everywhere. We were told that the estimated count was 21,000. As we birded the area, we saw several more species including a Sora and Virginia Rail.

Sandhill Cranes

After lunch, we headed out to the Kansas Settlement area. We stopped at the large Faria Dairy pond where we observed several ducks, but the treat was a Ross' Goose. We then continued on down a side road where we were treated with several hawks – a Red-tailed, Ferruginous and a great look at a Rough-legged Hawk that soared directly over us. Our last stop was at Willcox Ponds where we observed a flock of Chestnut-sided Longspurs. We then went our own way to go home. We had a total of 91 species for the trip.

Rough-legged Hawk

The attendees were Barbara Meding (leader), Chuck Kangas, Donna Smith, Carol Sharplin, Dominic Verony, Cheri Laude, Paul Soame, Fran Baughman, Stan and Darnelle Dunn and George Wall.
