

BIRD WALK AT ESTRELLA MT. REGIONAL PARK 5 12 18

CONDITIONS: The walk began at approximately 7:15 AM under clear skies, 74 degrees F and a freshening breeze from the northwest at 5 mph. The hike concluded at 10:30 AM with a temperature of 85 degrees F and a west northwest wind of 10-15 mph under clear skies.

ROUTE: After some observing at the nature center the actual walk was initiated on the east side of the park in a very active mesquite area, then proceeded to the Blue Gum Grove, past the grassy areas, through the salt bush scrub area and on to the riparian trail which ended at the mitigated ponds east of the park.

PARTICIPANTS: Lee Bradley, Wendell and Janet Thrush, Linda Henderson, Jerry and Linda Molinelli, George and Gail Krasean, Rachel Barrett, Alisia Diamond, Marlene Lucas, Laura Gieselman, Sharon Manyx, R. Stringham, Cindy Davis, Tom Locascio, Marilyn Cute, Paul Doucette, Nancy Kearsey, Jorge Lopez and son Daniel and guide, Joe Ford (22)

HIGHLIGHTS: It seemed like a White-winged Dove convention as the constant "who-cooks-for-you" filled the air and flyovers were ubiquitous. The Mesquite Bosque was active still with warblers and flycatcher types. The Great Horned Owl nest was vacant and the fledglings were gone. Of course the colorful Vermilion Flycatchers are always a treat and a male Western Tanager caused hearts to flutter with its colorful costume of yellow, black, white, and reddish face markings. The photographers were kept busy and hopefully some great pictures were added to their portfolios.
